If we registered your domain name, you can go to http://manage.opensrs.net and login with the username and password we assigned you. This is the same username and password we gave you when your account was activated with us. If we did not register your domain name then you will need to contact the registrar that you used to register the domain name.

If you are cancelling your hosting, be sure to fill out a cancellation request form at http://www.your-site.com/cancel.php
