

How much space can my website and email accounts use?

Author:
Your-Site.com

Created On: 24 Aug 2005 10:02 AM

Each hosted account shares the space on the account between space for your website and space for your emails. For example, if you have a plan with 5gb of storage, then you can use 1gb for your website and 4gb for your email, or any combination that totals less than 5gb. This limit is per domain name, not per email address. You can see the current space used by logging into webmail at <http://webmail.DOMAIN.COM> (replace DOMAIN.COM with your domain name) with any email address.