

What is this 250 gigs of transfer? Is it enough for me...

Author:
Your-Site.com

Created On: 16 Feb 2004 05:20 PM

Our monthly transfer allocation only applies to the data you send over HTTP requests (visitors downloading your web pages over the web). Files that you upload or download via FTP do not count towards this. 250 Gigs is quite a bit and is more than enough for the average website we host to have several million visitors per month.